Reporting Concerns of Clergy Misconduct

Anyone may contact a diocesan Intake Officer to report concerns about the behavior of a member of the clergy (priests, deacons, bishops). This initiates a process to hold clergy accountable for their behaviors. The Intake Officer for the Diocese of Western North Carolina: The Rev. Canon Augusta Anderson.

What can you expect from an Intake Officer?

You will be listened to with respect.

You will be offered pastoral care and response.

The Intake Officer will create a written report regarding your concerns.

The Intake Officer will answer your questions about the process.

NOTE: Effective July 1, 2011 clergy are required to report to the Intake Officer anything that may constitute an offense and to cooperate with the clergy disciplinary process.
